

First and foremost, Europe101 is our generation. And we're an incredibly important generation. Because in 2045, one hundred years on from the end of World War II, we will be leading Europe. Leading with many boundaries to cross and opportunities to face. Now is our chance to connect as a generation and take a crucial moment to think about and become the leaders that we want to be.

Europe101 is a FREE, online leadership development program which allows just that. Specifically designed for our Europe101 generation, the online program brings together up to 2000 young leaders (18-25 year olds) over the course of four weeks. During which, you will develop your leadership skills against the Europe101 model, build invaluable connections with your peers across the continent and enhance your professional profile by gaining the Europe101 micro-credential.

Accessible Online Learning

Europe101 is completely free and open to any 18-25 year-old living in or from Europe. Based entirely online, Europe101 is both inclusive and accessible to different types of learners and schedule. Participants on the program gain access to their dedicated learning moodle with weekly self-directed content (around 1 hour a week) and live events - from Q&As, webinars, interviews, brainstorming and networking sessions.

A Connected Generation

Europe101 provides young people in Europe and around the world to build connections with their peers across the continent as well as established European leaders. The programme will engage young people from very different backgrounds and beliefs. Participants will learn to harness diversity, learn from each other and connect with people they may never have the opportunity to meet otherwise.

Europe101 Micro-Credential

On completion, individuals gain a certificate of learning, an online micro-credential and join the ever-expanding Europe101 Alumni network. Their Europe101 micro-credential can be shared on social media, added to resumes and professional profiles signifying both their completion of the programme and that they are part of the generation committed to creating a lasting legacy for Europe.

"What really got me excited about Europe101 when we first discussed it was that it's about the future. It is not about what is in it for me or what is in it for my generation. It is all about how we can help the Europe101 generation, as our testament to Europe. So that participants can gain skills, build a network and to agree on some basic principles without my generation telling you what you should do"
